

STANDARDIZED TEST PREPARATION PROVIDERS

Below is a listing of standardized test preparation providers with whom we have some familiarity because of their work with Beaver students. This list is intended as a convenience only, and inclusion on this list is not intended as an endorsement of any provider.

It should be noted that Beaver has had a satisfactory contractual relationship with Summit Education in the past and maintains a partnership arrangement with Chyten Education whereby Beaver students may be eligible for discounted services for some Chyten programs. Beaver currently contracts with Russell Education to provide some services for students.

In looking for support for any student factors such as cost, time availability, and geographic convenience will weigh differently for each family. In addition, the “match” of personality and style between provider and student can be very important; some students will thrive while others may struggle with the same provider. No provider can absolutely guarantee particular results despite any claims, and individual results will vary; student commitment and effort matter as much as teacher effectiveness.

When contacting any provider be sure to ask about rates, availability, in-home or site-based tutoring, methodologies, and refund policies. It’s also worth asking around among friends and neighbors for references or feedback—The Beaver College Counseling Office, September 2011
